Our Motto

सा विद्या या विमुक्तये

forms part of a verse appearing in Vishnu-Purana (1.19.41)

The whole verse reads as follows :

तत्कर्म यन्न बन्धाय
सा विद्या या विमुक्तये ।
आयासायापरं कर्म
विद्यान्या शिल्पनैपुणम् ।।

The verse also occurs in the anthology of subhasitas entitled "Sarangadharapaddhati" (No.4396). In this latter work, the source of the verse is given as Vasisthat. The verse obviously possesses an ethical-spiritual import and may be translated as follows:

"That is (right) action which does not conduce to bondage (Karmabandha in the Bhagavadgita sense); that is (true) knowledge which conduces to final liberation or spiritual emancipation; (any) other knowledge implies mere skill in craft

"बन्धन का कारण न हो, वही कर्म है और मोक्ष को
सिद्ध करने वाली हो, वही विद्या है। इससे भिन्न
कर्म व्यर्थ परिश्रम रूप और भिन्न विद्याएँ केवल
कला-कौशल रूप ही हैं ।।"

Basuthkar Jagadeeshwar Rao
Vice-Chancellor, University of Hyderabad

Prof. C. R. Rao Road, Gachibowli
Central University P.O.
Hyderabad – 500 046.

From the Vice-Chancellor's Desk

I'm delighted to present the University of Hyderabad's annual report, highlighting our remarkable progress in education and research. As we complete four successful years of the Institution of Eminence (IoE) project, we're poised to reach new heights.

Global Recognition

Our university's consistent focus on quality research and teaching has earned us a spot in the QS Rankings 2026, with a ranking of 801-850 globally. We're among the top universities worldwide and ranked 18th among Indian universities in the National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF) 2025. Our research publications have secured us the top spot among multidisciplinary Indian universities in the Nature Index 2025 ranking.

Student Strength and Diversity

This year, our student strength stands at 5,750, with 30.5% research scholars pursuing Ph.D. and M.Tech programs. Women students comprise 46.2% of the total strength, while 27.5% of students belong to reserved categories (SC/ST/PH) and 37.5% from OBC categories. We've also seen a significant increase in international students, with 250 students enrolled in various programs.

The University of Hyderabad has successfully uploaded a total of 44800 records of the Degrees awarded to the Digilocker NAD. All Degrees awarded from 1977 to 2024 have been uploaded. Our university is now part of the Ministry's CUET for the admissions. I am happy to inform you all that the University has received close to 30,999 applications for all courses other than PhD.

Research Excellence

Our faculty, numbering over 400, produced more than 562 research publications including 70 books, during the year. Our faculty have been associated with several important national and international bodies, held Professorships of distinction, both in India and abroad, and participated in the global educational arena with as much vigour as we have always done. Furthermore, they have been funded quite handsomely receiving grants from national and international funding agencies like UGC, MHRD, DBT, DST, EU, DoE, IUSSTF and so on. The University's current extramural R&D funding is about Rs. 350 crores. Our long-term vision and mission is "National Needs, Global Standards". Our core values seek innovation and interdisciplinary, integrating hard sciences with humanistic studies and social inquiry, reinvigorating literary and linguistic studies with digital technology. University's research work aspires to global standards in order to truly fulfil national needs. I am delighted to record here a recent study by Stanford and published in the highly respected journal PLOS Biology shows 29 of our faculty/researchers figure in the list of top researchers.

Institution of Eminence Initiatives

The University of Hyderabad's Institution of Eminence (IoE) status is a huge recognition of its standing and potential to join the world's best institutions. To leverage this, the university has announced several initiatives, including research calls to boost faculty research infrastructure, with 128 projects worth ₹50 crores already awarded. The latest research call focuses on SC/ST/Women and persons with disability. The university is also working on internationalization through the IoE Chair Professor and International Fellows scheme, and enhancing industry involvement through public-private partnerships and research clusters. New infrastructure developments are Inter-disciplinary centre; HRDC building; International guest house; Administrative building and Hostels for boys and girls.

NEP 2020 and IoE Initiatives

We're committed to implementing the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, focusing on interdisciplinary research, innovation, and community engagement. Under the IoE project, we've launched new programs, including research calls, professional development funds for teachers, and student achiever awards. We've also initiated internationalization efforts, including the IoE Chair Professor and International Fellows scheme.

Infrastructure Development

We're expanding our infrastructure with new buildings, including an interdisciplinary center, HRDC building, international guest house, and hostels. These developments will enhance our research and teaching capabilities.

Looking Ahead

As we strive to become a global leader in higher education, our vision of "National Needs, Global Standards" aligns with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). I congratulate our faculty, students, and staff for their tireless efforts and dedication to excellence.

I look forward to even greater achievements for the University of Hyderabad.

About the School

Established in 1977, The School of Life Sciences has witnessed phenomenal progress and established itself as one of the largest and most vibrant Schools in the University system in the country. With an emphasis on interdisciplinary teaching and research, the school produces finest graduates in modern biology, biotechnology, bioinformatics and systems biology. The performance of its alumni, students together with the contributions of the faculty, placed University at highest rank in research output in the recent Nature Index rankings.

The School consists of five Departments:

Department of Biochemistry
Department of Plant Sciences
Department of Animal Biology
Department of Biotechnology & Bioinformatics
Department of Systems & Computational Biology

Every year, the School receives highest number of applications in response to our admission notifications both from India and abroad. Details of academic programmes, eligibility criteria and admission process along with faculty profile can be accessed from the web page of the school (http://sls.uohyd.ac.in).

The School started its journey from a modest premises located at the old science complex. It has moved out to a new centrally air-conditioned building with a plinth area of 2,38,345 sft. The modern building is designed for housing a total of 65 research laboratories, class-rooms, teaching laboratories, central instrumentation facilities, cell and microbial culture facilities, seminar hall and auditorium. A state of the art animal house with mosquito breeding facility, and a fully functional and third party evaluated Biosafety Level 3 (BSL-3) facility are the recent additions to majestic School of Life Sciences building. These new additions and funding from Department of Biotechnology under DBT-Boost to University Interdisciplinary Life Science Departments for Education and Research programme (DBT-BUILDER)programme is indeed a boost to the Schools interdisciplinary research. The well-equipped laboratories, committed, trained faculty together with highly talented and motivated students contribute for establishing an excellent academic ecosystem at SLS. Under the tutelage of SLS faculty, a number of students transformed into World Class Scientists, academic leaders and entrepreneurs. Research work done by the faculty of the school frequently appear in journals of international reputes and attracted the attention of world's best talent. resulting in establishing international collaborations. Most of the labs have won international grants and successfully participated in bilateral scientific collaborations with most of the leading nations. In recognition of their research contributions, the faculty won a number of recognitions including Millennium Plaques of Honour instituted by Indian Science Congress Association (ISCA), Shanthi Swaroop Bhatnagar Prize, given by CSIR, New Delhi. A good number of faculty are elected fellows of all three leading science academies and won coveted recognitions like JC Bose fellowships, Fulbright International Education Administrators Awards. The vision of the faculty together with hard work of the committed students, helped SLS to win institutional grants from national and international agencies. The SLS won prestigious CAS (Center for Advanced Studies) grant from University Grants Commission (UGC), New Delhi. Most of the departments of the school are funded either by UGC-DRS / by DST-FIST schemes. The SLS is one of the few Schools under University set up to receive grants from Department of Biotechnology (DBT), New Delhi under DBT-BUILDER programme. During this academic year, SLS obtained about 39 crores approximately extramural funding from both industry and Govt. funding agencies like, CSIR, DST, SERB, DBT, MoE and ICMR. Also in the country Master students of the SLS have shown impressive performance clearing UGC-CSIR-NET exam. Students are also selected for Prime Minister Research Fellowship and several foreign students regularly carry out research internships at the School of Life Sciences.

The SLS effectively used funds received from various funding agencies to create state-of-the-art teaching laboratories, centralized high-end facilities such as Real-Time PCR Machine, Fluorescence-activated Cell Sorting (FACS) Facility, Microarray Spotter/Analyzer and Hybridization Oven, Next-Generation Sequencing System, Bioruptor, Cross Linker, Electroporator, Luminometer, Nano-Drop Machine, HPLC, FPLC and AKTA PILOT, CD Spectrophotometer, Fluorescence Spectrophotometer, Surface Plasmon Resonance, Radioactive Facility, Proteomics-MALDI/MS-MS/ TOF-Q Chemidoc-Imaging System, Robotic Crystallization System LC-MS and GC-MS for Metabolomic Research, Confocal/ Fluorescence Microscope, Super Resolution Microscope, Flow Cytometry, Microtome/Ultramicrotome (Tissue Sectioning), in vivo Imaging for whole cell and animal imaging, Green House Facility and Bio-Safety Level Three Facility (BSL3). With the recent DBT-Builder support, several equipment's are being procured. Metabolic Flux Analyzer, Infrastructure for Animal House - Anaesthesia machine, Horizontal rectangular automatic sterilizer, Laminar Flow systems.

In addition to these central facilities the school has access for infrastructural facilities set up at Nanotechnology Centre, Central Instrumentation Laboratory (CIL) and Centre for Modelling, Simulation and Design (CMSD), located within the campus which carry facilities such as Transmission Electron Microscope (TEM), Atomic Force Microscope (AFM) and high-end computational facilities.

SLS has been a host for a number of seminars, conferences and symposia. The school has invited several distinguished faculty and eminent scientists from across the globe.

Under the DBT-Builder outreach program of the School of Life Sciences, organizing a workshop on «Integrated approaches in understanding protein structure, dynamics, and interaction» from 17th Feb- 21st Feb 2025

Workshop with Cytiva for training on SPR (Biacore) and protein purification system (Akta Pilot). It is scheduled from 19-Feb to 21-Feb, 2025.

The school also has set up a Skill Development Centre that promotes training of researchers, research interns in the choice of their subject areas. Training programs conducted were during the academic year 2024-2025:

Summer Research Internship Program; Science Academies Summer School; Student observership; Autumn School on Flow Cytometry; BioE3 symposium; Workshop on Animal Cell Culture and Drug Discovery; Workshop on Protein Structure, Dynamics and Interactions; Workshop on CRISPR-Cas9 technology; Statistical Applications in Biology; Internship for Post Graduate Students.

Dues to these intense Academic Activities and envious infrastructure, the SLS is fondly known as 'Students Aspiration and Scholars Destination'.

The IoE & School of Social Sciences Golden Jubilee Academic Writing:
The Department of History, in collaboration with the Centre for Folk Culture Studies—part of the Institute of Eminence and the School of Social Sciences at the University of Hyderabad—organised the Golden Jubilee Academic Writing Workshops in October, November, and December 2024 under the auspices of the School of Social Sciences.

Dr Vijay Ramdas Mandala coordinated the first phase of a three-day academic writing workshop held on 21st, 22nd, and 23rd October 2024 at the Conference Hall, School of Social Sciences in the University of Hyderabad. A rigorous selection process, based on the assessment of their research writing samples by the screening committee and their reasons for enrolling in the workshop training programme, led to the selection of around 20 PhD scholars (15 from the History Department and five from Folk Culture Studies) in their third and fourth years and thesis write-up stages for these workshop sessions.

In the initial phase of the three-day workshop designed for PhD scholars in Folk Culture and History, three distinguished academics with expertise in academic writing for doctoral students and the publishing industry were invited. The three resource persons who offered their insights during the three days in October were Prof. K. Satyanarayana, Professor, Department of Cultural Studies, The English and Foreign Languages University (EFLU), Hyderabad), Dr. Prasun Chatterjee Deputy Head, Primus Books, Delhi, and Dr. Hashik NK Assistant Professor, Department of Cultural Studies, Tezpur University, Assam.

The three-day workshops, led by subject matter experts, were not just lecture sessions, but interactive experiences designed to engage PhD scholars. The PhD candidates specialising in Folk Culture Studies presented their ongoing research in the first phase, receiving valuable critical feedback from the resource persons who acted as evaluators during the workshop. The event primarily focused on interactive sessions, offering tips for enhancing the quality of doctoral dissertations, developing theoretical frameworks and methodologies, and ensuring that each PhD candidate contributes effectively to original research. Noteworthy sessions from the workshop included "Critical Thinking and Writing", "Writing a Research Paper or Doctoral Thesis Chapter", and "Transforming a Thesis into a Book Manuscript."

The second and third workshops were held on the 21st and 22nd November and 12th and 13th December, 2024. The coordinators were Professors Anindita Mukhopadhyay and Eswara Rao respectively. Due to a sudden bereavement in the family Prof. Rao could not be present during the workshop and the activities were conducted by the Head of the department. In the second phase the experts were Prof.J.Devika, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram and Dr Pratyay Nath, Department of History, Ashoka University, Sonepat. Prof. Devika spoke on "Crafting a History of the Present of the Malayali Family: Some Thoughts" and "Towards an Intersectional Method in Writing the Histories of Subaltern Places". Dr Pratyay Nath talked about "Methodological issues of Reading Imperial Sources against the Grain", and "Akbar's Pilgrimages to Ajmer and the Formation of the Mughal Empire". He demonstrated how visual sources can be used as explanatory tools for writing history. For the third workshop our experts were Prof. Projit Behari Mukharji, Department of History, Ashoka University and Dr Meera Visvanathan, Department of Department of History, Shiv Nadar University. Projit B.Mukharji spoke on "Molecularizing Tribes: Genetics as Prosaic Science in Early Postcolonial India" and also introduced the methodology of practising History of Science, Technology and Medicine. Meera Visvanathan who is a practitioner of early Indian history, spoke on the "Complex Chronologies and Longue Durée Histories: New Narratives for Studying India's Past" and discussed about the way a source like Land grants should be used for reconstruction of the past economic and social history. All the experts meticulously checked chapters written by the students related to their expertise and their critical comments were extremely useful. The students also presented their chapters and, in this domain, too, the experts suggested improvement which would allow them to curate their presentations in a succinct manner. The students feel that thy have hugely benefitted from the workshop, interactive sessions in particular, and the comments of the experts provided a direction to their work.

The academic writing workshop emphasized the crucial skills necessary for PhD scholars aiming to become accomplished academic authors and researchers, both nationally and internationally. The resource persons and the workshop coordinator stressed the urgent necessity for PhD candidates to complete their dissertations and publish at least one peer-reviewed journal article in SCOPUS-listed journals before their PhD Viva and the awarding of their doctoral degree. The experts also emphasized on the habit of reading beyond their own research area. The workshop, in addition to offering these essential sessions, also outlined a roadmap for approaching the PhD journey as an exciting adventure filled with intellectual curiosity rather than experiencing monotony and boredom.

4.6.5 Centre for Regional Studies

About the Centre

The Centre for Regional Studies (CRS) was first proposed during the first Academic Council meeting of the University on 4 April 1977. In May 1985, the Academic Council decided that the Centre of Regional Studies would continue under the School of Social Sciences to facilitate interdisciplinary teaching and research in the field of Regional Studies, as initially recommended by the Fifth Five Year Plan Visiting Committee (AC on 15 May 1985 and EC on 13 June 1985).

Established in 1985 according to the University Statutes and Ordinances, the Centre for Regional Studies (CRS) is the oldest Centre in the School of Social Sciences and the University itself. It commenced admissions for M.Phil. and Ph.D. programs from the academic year 1988-89 onwards. Since then, the Centre has awarded a total of 67 Ph.D. and 80 M.Phil. degrees from 1989-1990 to June 2024.

The delineation of 'regions' serves as a significant framework for comprehending societal dynamics. The Centre for Regional Studies (CRS) operates as an interdisciplinary hub within the School of Social Sciences, with its focal point being the region as the unit of analysis. These regions can be further disaggregated into sub-regions, enabling a focused examination of specific themes or idiosyncrasies. These themes encompass urbanisation, industrialisation, identity conflicts, marginalised regions and groups, political intricacies, cultural underpinnings, and environmental implications. All disciplines within the realm of social sciences play pivotal roles in both the conceptualisation and implementation of this framework.

CRS offers students the opportunity to engage with a regional approach to the study of socio-spatial transformations and to weave together concepts from various disciplines within the social sciences. The Centre's educational program for students adopts a spatial perspective, providing a comprehensive understanding of complex social phenomena in their multidimensionality.

In the wake of globalization, Indian culture in general and folk culture in particular needs special attention to safeguard its own identity and heritage. This vital area of enquiry is now arousing cultural consciousness among the zealots of the exotic ranging from corporate groups to that of policy makers and social activists.

The Centre for Folk Culture Studies is the first of its kind in the Central University system in India. It was established with the assistance of the Ford Foundation, USA. The Centre's interdisciplinary and multi-perspectival approaches emphasis research and teaching in Folk Culture Studies in the milieu of contemporary ethnographic fieldwork.

The Centre's thrust is on the study of various aspects of folk expressive behaviour as a dialogue between human groups and their physical and social environments. The manifold folk forms are information banks and communication systems explicating the dynamics of adaptive processes in time and space. SEST also collaborates with premier research institutions located in and around Hyderabad (namely DMRL, IICT, ARCI, NFC, NFTDC, NMDC and RCI), most of which are also formally recognized as school's external research centers, which provide ample opportunities for the students to work on industry relevant projects. The school is also actively involved in international collaborative projects that provide students with exciting new opportunities abroad.

The school has already been recognized for its excellence by the Department of Science and Technology (DST), Government of India, with funding to the tune of Rs. 240 Lakhs under its FIST programme. The school, since its inception, has been able to attract research grants of more than Rs. 1946 lakhs from various external funding agencies and through other revenue generation modes.

4.14 CENTRE FOR MODELLING AND SIMULATION DESIGN (CMSD)

PREAMBLE:
The study of passage from the micro world of atoms and molecules to the macro world of solids, liquid and gases calls for an understanding of a variety of phenomena in physics, chemistry, biology, technology and related areas. Atomic lasers, molecular computers, drug-receptor interactions, industrial catalysts, lubricants, and industrially important materials form part of this continuum and an understanding of this evolution needs all the three components of research, viz. theory, experiment and computation. Computer-based simulations now form an integral part of modern research methodology and in this era of science-driven-engineering and directed basic research, the role of scientific research, based on modelling, simulation and design, is of paramount importance. The primary requisite in using the third avenue of research for solving complex problems is a working, state-of-the-art High Performance Computing Facility (HPCF) Centre.

The University of Hyderabad, having expertise in many of the above areas, fully appreciates the inter-dependence of Science, Engineering and Technology, and launched a uniquely conceived new programme of higher education and research. This initiative was launched through an imaginative programme of the UGC (recognizing the University for its Potential for excellence) by establishing a designated Centre for such activity (Centre for Modelling Simulation and Design – CMSD). This programme has been receiving generous support from DST under its FIST program.

CMSD aims to nurture cross-disciplinary bridges, which are effective in generating new knowledge and creative explorations. The human resources generated from such efforts will be invaluable. Training individuals and organizations in specific hardware and software, undertaking of consultancy and turnkey projects, help convert real life phenomena into appropriate mathematical and computational models etc., are some of the important tasks that CMSD has embarked on. This Centre became operational from its new premises in December 2004.

One of the unique academic features of this Centre is that all the active computational scientists working in widely different academic disciplines in the University Campus are Associate Faculty of the CMSD, and contribute their expertise and experience in furthering its academic objectives. Some of the research interests of these Members include: Physics of low dimensional systems, Topological defects in fluids in restricted geometries, Critical phenomena in complex fluids and magnetic systems, Monte Carlo simulations and development of novel sampling techniques, Genomics and bioinformatics, Protein folding, Cognitive neuroscience, Computational intelligence, Natural language understanding, Very Large Scale Integration (VLSI), Quantum Chemistry and Density Functional Theory, Molecular Modelling, Drug Design and Delivery, Design of new materials, weather forecastingetc. Short term courses have been so far conducted in the areas of Parallel Computing, Monte Carlo Simulation and Molecular Modelling etc.

CMSD has been involved, over the past few years, in promoting and fostering multidisciplinary research programmes in Advanced Computational Methods, with focus on the core areas of Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Engineering Sciences and Computer Sciences, besides interest in related research areas like Finite Element Analysis as applied to Nanotechnology, Computational Fluid Dynamics, Ocean-atmosphere-climate Modelling, High-End-Visualization/ Virtual Reality, Modelling and Simulation of large/complex Systems, etc.

Following are the facilities available at the Centre:

1) Data Centre: The Data Centre houses a HPC cluster with following configuration.

a. HPC Cluster: 1680 CPU cores, achieving peak 120-Tflops speed, fully networked and consists of the following hardware: HPE Master Nodes (2), Computing Nodes (42), Storage Nodes (2) and SAN storage.

b. State of Art Storage Servers: Giving High Availability SAN Storage400TB RAID-5 storage, supports licensed LUSTRE Parallel File System.

c. Software: Cluster Management Utility (CMU) & Red Hat Enterprise Linux V7.4 (RHEL) OS Software, and GANANA Job Portal Software for job submission, MATLAB & Simulink (Academic Version) Release 2022b, Gaussian V16.0, GaussView V06, TCP Linda V09, Schrodinger's Structure based Material Science & Ligand Based Suitesall with perpetual licensesand various Open-Source User Application Software such as Gromacs, Python, Gamess, Lammps, R, Absoft Fortran, NAMD, ABINIT, PLUMED, VASP, Molpro,WIEN2k, Desmond etc., have been installed in the HPC. Users can submit and monitor their jobs using a web-based job submission portal GANANA.

Seminar Hall:

This is of 80 seat capacity provided with 40 laptops with Wi-Fi internet access, Video Conference facility which comprises of Interactive Display unit and Audio-Visual equipment.

Two Class Rooms: One with 30 and the other with 17 seats capacity. Each seat in these Class Rooms are equipped with latest desktops.

The Board Room: It is equipped with Video Conference facility which comprises of InteractiveDisplay unit and Audio Visual equipment.

Apart from the above, the Centre has two Committee Rooms and a few faculty rooms used for visiting faculty.

The Indira Gandhi Memorial Library is a central facility that provides information and support for the University's academic and research activities. The Library was established in 1975 and shifted to the present building in 1988. It was inaugurated by His Excellency Dr. Shankar Dayal Sharma, the then Vice-President of India, and named after Late Prime Minister Indira Gandhi. All the in-house Library Operations are fully computerized, including the Web OPAC, using the international Library Management Software Virtua supplied by VTLS Inc., USA. The Library automation activities have been moved to the CLOUD base using AWS since 2018. The UGC-INFLIBNET has identified the Library as one of the 26 document delivery centers in India for providing photocopies of journal articles to the research scholars of other Universities. Since 1990, the Library has achieved several distinctions in the country:

a) The IGM Library is the first University Library to computerize all in-house operations.
b) The first Library to computerize other Libraries (B.R. Ambedkar Open University, Telangana, and State Central Library, Hyderabad, Telangana.)
c) The first University Library to start the PGDLAN Course under Distance Education mode since 1998
d) The first University Library to subscribe to Electronic e-journals and databases.
e) The National Board of Higher Mathematics (NBHM) has identified this Library as a Regional Library for the Southern Region.
f) The first University Library to establish a Centre of competency in digital libraries and e-learning with the assistance of SUN Microsystems and UGC.
g) The first University Library to install a 3M Security Gate to avoid book thefts.
h) The first University Library to become a governing member of OCLC, USA.

The Library is on the cloud, and all the library activities and services are available on the Web. The hardware consists of IBM servers, storage devices, ZEUTSCHEF/ATIZ book scanners, hand-held laser scanners, laser printers, and 60 P.C.s. The Library uses VIRTUA application software and operating systems like Red Hat, MS Windows, Ubuntu Linux, etc. The Library uses barcode technology to issue, return, and renew books for accuracy and efficiency. 24 P.C.s are placed at the entrance Lobby of library for online-catalog, email, and internet browsing.

Similarly, 8 P.C.s are kept in the Library reading halls exclusively for searching for book databases. The Library is connected to the Campus Network through a 100 Mbps optical fiber channel. The library resources can be searched over the internet through a web-based online catalogue. The Library subscribed online journals/databases are available on the campus networks as well as Remote Access. The Library is enabled with Wi-Fi connectivity for laptops inside the Library.

8.1.3. Digital Library

The IGM Library has established a model digital Library by signing MoUs with SUN Micro Systems and VTLS, USA. Under these MoUs, a Centre of Competency in Digital Libraries and e-learning was established to undertake R & D activities by using Open Source Software and to create digital content in the University. Currently, this facility is being used to conduct hands-on training and practical classes for PGDLAN students. The Library is also a member of the Universal digital project of Carnegie-Melon University, Pittsburg, USA(Million Books to the Web). Under this project, a scanning center was established in the Library to digitize rare books. The Library has signed a MoU with UGC-INFLIBNET Centre, Ahmedabad, to digitize and upload full-text Ph.D. theses submitted to the University of Hyderabad. Already, 2901 Ph.D. theses have been digitized/uploaded to the Shodhganga project e-theses repository. The Library is also making efforts to digitize the remaining printed theses and upload them to the Shodhganga theses repository.

Around 150 visitors from other Universities and research laboratories visited the Library for reference last year. The inter-library loan requests of the students, research scholars, and faculty are being fully met with close cooperation from the local libraries. The Library has supplied 56 articles under the Document Delivery Service to research scholars from other Universities. Library orientation programmes are conducted for new students to familiarize them with the Library services, resources, and rules. The Library also conducts orientation programmes on research methodology for social science research scholars. The website is meticulously designed with several e-resources, which are helpful to the library user community.

The Library has introduced a remote access facility for faculty members, research scholars, and students, through which subscribed online databases, journals, and e-books can be accessed from outside the campus.

It was made operational through VSAT dish antennae. This transit node at the Computer Centre provided Email/Internet services to educational and research organizations in Andhra Pradesh such as IDRBT, NFC, DMRL etc. Further 128 Kbps microwave and 2 Mbps backbone links were established in the year 2000, 2001 respectively. UGC funds allocated in the year 2000, was utilized to increase the number of terminal points available to users. The UGC grant allocated in the year 2001 helped establish the1 Gbps structured SM fiber optic network for the university. Further this expanded as a 2 Mbps point-to-point leased line between UOH and IDRBT, 2 Mbps UOH - Infosys (Hyderabad) – Bangalore leased line, and128 Kbps ISDN line. In the year 2006, the bandwidth available to the university was enhanced to 64 Mbps. All residential buildings, hostels, and upcoming buildings were connected to the backbone network. Sciences departments of the University of Hyderabad — gained valuable hands-on experience through internships at ASPIRE-incubated startups. These initiatives are shaping the next generation of scientific entrepreneurs and innovators.

To date, ASPIRE has supported over 120 startups. In the fiscal year 2024–25, 77 startups were actively supported at various stages of incubation, with 10 graduating successfully. These startups have collectively filed 30 patents this year and raised funding through a combination of government grants and private investments. Several have received national and international accolades, underscoring the quality and impact of the innovations emerging from ASPIRE.

Notably, VeGen Labs LLP, a biotechnology startup incubated at the University of Hyderabad, secured a major research grant of ₹3.765 crore from the Biotechnology Industry Research Assistance Council (BIRAC). This funding will advance their research on a KRAS inhibitor for the treatment of non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC), representing a significant breakthrough in therapeutic innovation and precision medicine from our ecosystem.

As the implementation partner for the Startup India Seed Fund (SISF) scheme, ASPIRE disbursed over ₹3.4 crore to 19 startups in the form of grants and optionally convertible debentures (OCDs). These funds have helped startups progress from ideation to market readiness, enabling rapid prototyping, regulatory support, and commercialization.

A major highlight of the year was ASPIRE being awarded the 8th Edition of the HDFC Parivartan Grant. Under this initiative, we launched the EcoInnovate Program to support startups addressing challenges in sustainability and innovation. As part of this program, five startups — Cancrie Private Limited, Proleri Technologies Private Limited, Elmentoz Research Private Limited, Amigos Molecular Solutions Private Limited, and D-Nome Private Limited — were selected and supported with a total funding of ₹52 lakhs.

Further strengthening our infrastructure, ASPIRE received a CSR grant of ₹25 lakhs from Hyclone Life Sciences Solutions India Pvt. Ltd. (Cytiva) to establish an Alternative Protein Research Centre at ASPIRE-BioNEST. This centre will support R&D in sustainable food solutions, offering startups access to essential lab infrastructure and fostering collaborations between academia, industry, and startups.

Our startups made a notable impact on national platforms this year. Seven startups represented ASPIRE at Startup Mahakumbh, where Elmentoz Research Private Limited was declared the Winner of the Startup Mahakumbh Grand Challenge 2025 under the theme "Rising Towards Viksit Bharat." Additionally, UR Advanced Therapeutics was named Startup Maharathi for its contributions in healthcare and biotechnology.

Adding to our recognition, ASPIRE received the prestigious Healthcare Education Excellence and Innovation Award at the AI Health Care Summit, hosted by MATH T-Hub on 5th February 2025. This award celebrates our contributions to healthcare innovation through artificial intelligence and reaffirms our commitment to transformative technologies.

Throughout the year, ASPIRE hosted a series of events aimed at strengthening the startup ecosystem, including entrepreneurial workshops, expert talks, and industry visits. More than 20 national and international dignitaries — including industry leaders, consulate generals, and ambassadors — visited our incubation centres and appreciated the University's role in fostering innovation and enterprise.

As part of our broader skill development initiative, we conducted three hands-on training sessions on flow cytometry in collaboration with Thermo Fisher Scientific. These workshops benefited both startup teams and students from neighbouring institutions by providing practical experience with advanced scientific instrumentation. We plan to continue and expand these technical training programs in the upcoming year.

Institution of Eminence (IoE):

The Government of India accorded the Institution of Eminence (IoE) status to University of Hyderabad in September 2019, in recognition of its standing, ability and potential to move into the league of the world's best institutions. Only two other Central universities, Banaras Hindu University and University of Delhi have been accorded this status. University of Hyderabad is the only Central University in South India to achieve this status. The IoE tagline 'national needs, global standards' is geared towards academic, research, infrastructure, financial and administrative support for all its stakeholders: faculty, students and non-teaching staff.

The university views IoE as a unique opportunity in its history to leverage its existing reputation, practices and services to catapult itself into the best and highest leagues nationally and globally. The University has spent more than ₹600 crore so far on achieving the IoE goals.

A substantial part of IoE funds have been invested in creation of new infrastructure including upgrading of existing equipment and research support; a new Interdisciplinary Research Centre to house central facilities, enable conferences and innovation and entrepreneurship; human resource development centre; 50 room guest house, 400-seater boys and girls' hostel (each); lecture hall complex; and administration building. Most of these buildings are either complete and ready for occupation or very close to completion.

The central facilities being established at a cost of ₹60 crore include an analytical Transmission Electron microscope, focused ion beam- scanning electron microscope, micro-x-ray diffractometer, x-ray photoelectron spectrometer, optical microscopy platforms, physical property measurement system etc.

More than 250 faculty members out of the total faculty strength of 400 have been awarded grants through the five research calls and professional development fund schemes. Uniquely, one of the research calls was aimed at funding the research programmes of faculty members belonging to the SC/ST/Women/PwD categories. Two other schemes aimed at encouraging translational research and greater engagement with the industry called inter-institutional research clusters and public-private partnerships were also launched. This initiative is helping in facilitating exposure of UoH faculty to their international counterparts and industry. A research cluster on the applications of AI in the health sector has been established.

Almost 500 faculty members and PhD scholars have received the ₹1 lakh travel assistance to attend seminars and conferences abroad. The stakeholders have travelled to countries such as USA, UK, France, Germany, Singapore, Thailand, Vietnam, Romania, Hong Kong, Spain etc. Senior administrative officials have been deputed abroad for training programmes.

In addition, over the last two years, close to 150 non-NET PhD scholars have received the publication-based performance incentive of ₹ 12,000/- per month. More than 200 PG students have received the cash award of ₹ 5,000 for being the topper in a semester in a PG programme along with a certificate. About 75 post-doctoral research fellows have also been appointed under the IoE programme.

The IoE programme has funded more than 100 national and international conferences cutting across disciplines, short-term visits of 5 internationally eminent IoE-Chair Professors, several skill development programmes and development of e-learning resources. Workshops and Distinguished Lectures on administrative best practices, basic skills, upskilling and re-training of administrative, financial and other staff have been organized.

The IoE programme has also funded the repair, renovation and upgrade of all major buildings, hostels, faculty quarters, research and teaching facilities

As part of the Golden Jubilee celebrations of the University of Hyderabad more than 50 Distinguished Lectures have been organized. The Distinguished lectures were delivered by Nobel laureates, eminent academicians/ researchers within India and abroad, industry leaders as well as leaders in the field of arts, theatre, films and music. This is expected to enhance the perception and visibility of the University.

In summary, funds received under the Institution of Eminence programme have been extremely beneficial for the University to enhance existing infrastructure and also establish new infrastructure, start new teaching and research programmes. Most significantly it helped in providing exposure to internationally renowned academics, researchers and global institutions, to the University's student community.

Director : Prof. M. Ghanashyam Krishna

Assistant Directors : Prof. D.B. Ramachary, Prof. D. Muarli Manohar, Prof. Ajailiu Niumai.
